H-Bomb War with Russia is Unlikely: Eisenhower

About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHEUS T.Find Letter Dated 1905 in Saline Hotel Walls

IN ANOTHER YEAR it would have been 50 years, but it wasn't. The letter Joe Ingram brought in is 49 years old.

Mr. Ingram, bricklayer, was working last week on the First Baptist Education building which was the Saline hotel and when an old wall was being torn away, out came a letter.

This letter, dated in November 1905, was addressed to Harry King of Harrisburg and it said:

"By order of the president you are hereby notified to attend the meeting of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers Union on Nov. 3, 1905, as business of importance calls you to attend." It was signed by G. W. Brown and there was a P. S. which said: "A Fine of $2.50 will be placed against you if not there."

Harry King is a cousin of Mr. Ingram and both worked on the construction of the Saline hotel as brickmasons. Mr. King now is a contractor at Portageville, Mo.

The Saline hotel was the first brick job Mr. Ingram ever worked on.

Remember a metropolitan paper cartoon a few days ago where a fellow was holding up a fish in front of his wife and she remarked, "I thought you said you were bringing up a surgeon?"

Well, the fish was a surgeon, and although not common, they are caught in the Ohio river in these parts.

Joe Cook down at Seoddy's showed me a 25-pound sturgeon yesterday and remarked that the sturgeon is where the genuine Russian caviar comes from. The Reds get theirs from Siberian waters.

Only this one had no caviar. It had a sack of eggs from which the caviar comes but they were not matured. So it is good only for its fish meat.

Joe told me that he ships out sturgeon a bit of caviar, however, from sturgeon and from spoonbill catfish, which are more plentiful than the sturgeon.

The sturgeon he had on ice was caught on a trotline near Golconda. He said in these parts there are only two fish that have gizzards, the sturgeon and the tooth shark.

He pointed out that the hackleback, which he ships at a good price for smoking, is a small sturgeon, and to look at both of them, you can see he is correct.

Joe buys fish from commercial fishermen on the Ohio from below Cave-in-Rock to Brookport. He includes all their edible fish, including channel catfish, spoonbill catfish, buffalo, sturgeon, hackleback, white perch and carp.

He pointed out that pan-size channel catfish are fiddlers, that the spoonbill catfish also is known as boneless catfish. I knew this, but I didn't know that there's a big market for buffalo. Yep, he says, if it is cut right, you don't have that bone problem and he added that he knows how to cut it.

Bulk of the fish caught by commercial fishermen, he said, is by barrel net and snagline.

Joe said he ships out from three to eight barrels of fish a week and that he ships 3,000 to 4,000 pounds of hackleback annually. A lot of spoonbill catfish is shipped to New York, he said, and there it is called spoonbill sturgeon.

Former Resident, is Killed in Auto Accident

Bill McClenden, 58, former resident of Harrisburg but late of Texas, was killed in an auto accident en route from Texas to Benton, where his son, Bill Jr., operates a grocery store.

He is survived by his wife, Lena, a son, Bill Jr., Benton, and a daughter, Mona Lee. He was the nephew of the late Mrs. Martha Coates and Mrs. Susie McCluskey, who were both residents of Harrisburg.

The body arrived in Benton this afternoon and was received by the Freeman funeral home.

The funeral will be held Thursday.

O. P. Sullivan of Thompsonville Dies

O. P. Sullivan, 76, Thompsonville, died Monday night at the home of a son, Noble Sullivan, in Carbondale. The body is now at the Drake funeral home in Benton, and funeral plans are incomplete.

Besides the son, Noble, he is survived by three other children: Mrs. Truly McClarren, Benton, Brave Sullivan, Frankfort, Ind., and Ervin Sullivan, Carbondale.

Americans'
5 Basic FearsSays Kremlin Would Never Challenge
Atomic Might of U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says an H-bomb war with Russia is unlikely because the Kremlin never would challenge America's atomic might except in a "fit of madness or through miscalculations."

In an informal but solemn radio-TV talk Monday night, Mr. Eisenhower said Americans are beset by five basic fears—Russia, the atomic age, loss of allies, Communist penetration at home, the chance of a depression.

He declared that all of these—even their "dramatic symbol," the H-bomb—have been exaggerated. He urged faith in America's strength and greatness as an end to "hysteria."

Mr. Eisenhower said there are "sobering" reasons why Moscow is unlikely to launch a hydrogen war—the example of other aggressors who failed, the weakness of the satellite system, economic flaws, and above all U. S. possession of the H-bomb and U. S. determination to retaliate if attacked.

Effective Speech
Nevertheless, he said "insanity still exists" in the world and the United States must plan "very coldly and very carefully" for the possibility—however remote—that the Russians might plunge the world into an incredibly destructive atomic war.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said it was "one of the great speeches" of the President's career. Other Republicans were equally enthusiastic but at least one Democratic leader called it "disappointing."

As a television performance, observers agreed it was extremely effective, the best Mr. Eisenhower has done yet. He leaned casually against a desk in the White House broadcast room, he spoke calmly and easily, although he only had

DeSilva Quits Democratic National Council

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Union officer Joseph T. DeSilva quit the national Democratic Party advisory council and the State Central Committee Monday night with a hotly worded criticism of National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell.

DeSilva, head of a local of the AFL Retail Clerks Union, said Mitchell decided to censure and withhold financial aid to congressional candidates James Roosevelt and Rep. Robert L. Condon was "panic-motivated" and "unforgivable."

Roosevelt has been accused of wholesale adultery by his estranged wife, and Condon has been denied permission to witness nuclear weapon tests for "security" reasons.

Nine GOP Candidates for U. S. Senate
Nearing End of Primary Campaign

CHICAGO (AP)—Next fall the Illinois Republican machine will go all out to throw Democrat Paul Douglas out of the U. S. Senate, but with a primary election only a week away the big fight today was within the GOP.

Nine aspirants for the Republican senatorial nomination, the most crowded field in Illinois history, were finishing up campaign chores in preparation for next Tuesday's balloting.

Monday night, for instance three of the candidates appeared on the same platform at a ward rally here and one of them unleashed a sharply worded attack against a fellow speaker. The third Republican counseled moderation.

Julius Klein, a public relations counsel, referred to Joseph T. Meek, well-known Illinois lobbyist, as "the State Street representative."

Warns Against Bickering
"Douglas will make a chump out of Meek if he is nominated," he added.

Austin Wyman, a strong Eisenhower supporter, warned against "too much bickering among ourselves."

Meek, who favors a constitutional amendment limiting the President's treaty-making powers and is an admirer of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), told the rally he would "support every effort to force the government to dispose

New American Planes Arrive
In Indochina

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—American plane reinforcements have arrived in Indochina and will be thrown into the battle of Dien Bien Phu in record time, military authorities said today.

Officials said the vanguard of the 25 B26 light bombers promised the French only two weeks ago started landing at airports around Hanoi Sunday. Most of the rest have now arrived, it was announced.

The United States promised France the additional light bombers after President Eisenhower and other top officials met with Gen. Paul Ely, French chief of staff, in Washington March 22.

About 50 B26s had been contributed by the United States earlier in the year.

The B26 Martin Marauders were ferried from Japan by American crews. But French pilots and crews will replace them for the raids under way against 20,000 Communist reinforcements rushing south to the besieged French fortress where military circles described the situation as "uneasy."

Only 2 Contests
In School
Board Elections

Lack of contests dominate in the board of education elections set for Saturday in Saline county.

A survey shows that of the 12 school districts that will hold board of education elections, there are only two contests. These are at Eldorado, in the high school election, and at Carrier Mills, in the elementary school voting.

For the Eldorado high school board of education, four persons seek two vacancies. They are Carl Johnson, Carroll Harbison, Thomas Cannon and Andrew Turentine.

At Carrier Mills, Oather Dunaway, William (Bill) Gulleddge and H. L. (Huck) Nolen seek the two posts that will be vacant on the elementary school board.

There is one school district, the Colbert consolidated district, where there will be a board of education election but where there have been no filings it was learned. There will be write-ins at the election.

The other districts, where there are no contests:

Harrisburg high school — Bert Gaskins and Dr. William J. Blackard.

Carrier Mills high school—Lloyd Culbreth and Robert Whitney.

Galatia high school—Howard Malone and Wallace Stewart.

Harrisburg elementary schools—L. N. Davenport and Bruce Polk.

Dorrisville elementary school—Carl Mills and Louie Coget.

Galatia elementary school — James Manker and Max Cockrum.

Eldorado elementary schools — Dr. Quentin Wilson and Glen Muckley.

Raleigh elementary school—Alvin Ecklund and Raymond E. Bennett.

Cottage Grove consolidated district—Virgil Alvey and Royal Alvey.

U. S. Seeking to Map Warning
To Red ChinaWould Be Issued
Before Conference
At Geneva April 26

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials said today the United States is trying to get other key nations to join in warning Red China against direct intervention in the Indochinese war.

The State Department confirmed that Secretary of State Dulles has been consulting with Great Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, and the Philippines on the threat "confronting Southeast Asia."

The objective is to present China with an international warning to stay out of Indochina. Paris dispatches interpreted the U. S. proposals as meaning China would be warned that intervention in the Indochinese fighting might lead to general war.

Some Ready to Accept

Dulles has said Chinese aggression in behalf of the Indochinese Red rebels might produce "grave consequences" not confined to Indochina. But official sources said this does not necessarily mean general war. These sources said the consequences could be one or more of the following:

1. A blockade of Red China, cutting her off from vital supplies.

2. Joint trade policies by the free nations to the same end.

3. Support of action by Chiang Kai-Shek's Formosan forces to keep China off balance while engaged in Indochina.

One diplomatic source said the U. S. government invited some or all of the six interested nations to join this country in a regional defense pact to guarantee not only Indochina but the rest of Southeast Asia against Communist conquest. This source said it was understood some of the nations are ready to accept.

A diplomatic informant said the reported joint warning proposal "is one of several being canvassed." It would be issued, it was understood, before the April 26 Geneva conference on the Far East.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles called March 29 for "United action" against the Chinese Reds if they commit aggression in Indochina.

Heavy Work Schedule

Monday he told the House Foreign Affairs Committee China already has come "awfully close" to the kind of intervention in Indochina that might kick off retaliation under the "united action" policy.

Today the secretary laid aside less pressing labors in order to give his full time to what a State Department spokesman called a "heavy work schedule."

That schedule apparently involved efforts to build up the united action policy with the nations most closely concerned.

Meanwhile, Rep. Albert P. Morgan (R-Conn.) urged that the United States refuse to attend the Geneva conference "until it has

GOP Opponents
Fail to Support
President: Douglas

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas, leader of the Democratic primary slate, charged Monday night that all nine Republicans who are seeking the chance to run against him in the fall have failed to give President Eisenhower their full support.

Douglas, who is unopposed in his bid for reelection, told a rally of Democratic Party workers in the Civic Opera House to turn out a big vote April 13 as a show of strength for the general elections in November.

"There is a mess in Washington and Springfield," Douglas said. "Let's clean it up. Turn the rats out—vote Democratic."

The senator charged that the nine Republican candidates for the senatorial nomination, have not discussed the issues in their campaigns. "Instead," he said, "we have heard only an uproar of oratory without a program."

"In the last days," Douglas said, "the nine GOP candidates, have made it clear that their President and secretary of state can expect no support from them in the great, critical struggle against communism."

"Far from it," Douglas added. "Before the world they have begun to oppose the President and secretary of state for warning of the grave danger and proposing united

Second Piano Sold
Here for Missionary
From Honduras

Four years ago, Mrs. Ira Adams, Equality, purchased a piano from the Lloyd L. Parker furniture store in Harrisburg, to ship to her missionary friends, Mr. and Mrs. David Schneider, in Honduras, Central America.

The piano, which was the first and only piano in the country of Honduras, was crated at the Parker furniture store by Loyd Nicholson, and shipped by truck to Carbondale.

From there it traveled by rail to New Orleans and from there by boat to LaCebia port in Honduras. It was then flown to Juticopa air port and from the airport was taken to the home of the missionaries by ox cart. It arrived in perfect condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Schneider, former residents of Chillicothe, Ohio, who have two daughters, Martha, 18, and Gwen, 16, recently returned to Illinois for a furlough from Honduras where they have been missionaries for 12 years.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Schneider and Mrs. Adams, Equality, visited the Lloyd L. Parker furniture store to make arrangements for the shipment of another piano which will go to a new area where Mr. and Mrs. Schneider are starting a church.

Upon leaving Honduras the Schneiders donated the first piano to the Tempio Evangelico church.

City to Start Buying Land for Lake Harrisburg

The city of Harrisburg today was ready to start buying the land needed to construct a Lake Harrisburg between Raleigh and Galatia.

The vote of the March 18 referendum was canvassed at this morning's council meeting in the presence of Howard Percy, representative of Barcus-Kindred Co., which will handle the local bond issue, and the council passed a motion for City Attorney Searl Thompson to give notice to exercise options on the land.

The action came as the city was getting some rainfall that will put some water in the CIPS reservoir. How much was not immediately known. However, it was learned from Clyde Pittman, weather observer, that 1.50 inches of rain fell during the night up to 8 a. m. today. Yesterday's short but heavy shower measured .15 inch.

Harry Dorris, president of the water board, attended this morning's city council and reported that Blue Lake had dropped approximately 15 inches since the city started using from this body of water March 18.

The body is now at the Hoffman funeral home in Golconda where the funeral will be held Thursday at 1:30 p. m. Rev. Frank Marshall, pastor of the Golconda Baptist church, will conduct the service, and burial will be in the Hageland cemetery in Bay City.

Area Labor Crafts Pledge 'No
Strikes' in Meeting with SII Group

By ROBERT L. ULLRICH

United Press Staff Correspondent

BENTON, Ill. (AP)—Representatives of a dozen AFL craft unions gave a pledge of "no strikes" to business and industrial leaders Monday night as they discussed means of bringing new industry and economic strength to Southern Illinois.

The AFL Business Agents Conference was host to members of Southern Illinois Inc., a group which promotes the area to industrial firms, at a dinner meeting which was the first of its kind in labor-management and business relations history in this area.

Most of the speakers commented on the labor troubles at the Joppa steam power plant before the Bechtel Corp. took over the job last October. It was noted that while there were 143 strikes under Ebasco Services, there have been 172 consecutive days without a work stoppage under Bechtel Corp.

Conditions Improved
The speakers agreed the strikes gave Southern Illinois a bad labor reputation but asserted that present conditions are greatly improved and pledged even better labor relations in the future.

James Bateman, Murphysboro, chairman of the conference, pledged labor's help to bring new industry to Southern Illinois.

"We have been wrong at times in the past," he admitted, "but we believe we are on the right track now."

Joseph Keenan, secretary-treasurer of the AFL Building Crafts Division, said Southern Illinois needs a labor industry committee which would visit industrial firms considering a move to this area. Keenan said such a committee should be able to give the firms a guarantee of no labor trouble.

"When they give them the guarantee, our people must carry it out no matter what," Keenan declared.

He urged establishment of a building trades council covering about 15 Southern Illinois counties employing one or two full time men.

A graveside service was held at 11:30 a. m. today at the Lakeview cemetery, east of Carrier Mills, for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hayward A. Lyles, Carrier Mills, who died at 1:15 a. m. today at the Harrisburg hospital.

The Thornton funeral home in Carrier Mills was in charge. The Lyles have a daughter who is 17 months. A son died at birth in 1951.

Resignation
Is Accepted
UnanimouslyAttorney Says Withdrawal is
In Public Interest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Samuel P. Sears, Boston attorney, withdrew today as counsel for the Senate's investigation into Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's dispute with the Army.

The Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee, after a 2 1/2 hour meeting, accepted Sears' resignation unanimously.

Sears issued a statement saying "after a rather long conference with members of the subcommittee, and in fact, prior to meeting them, I have come to the resolute conclusion that I should not serve."

Sears was given the job last Thursday.

At that time he told newsmen he never had taken a position either publicly or privately on McCarthy or McCarthyism. He also had given such assurances to the subcommittee. Within a matter of hours, reports from Boston indicated that he had made pro-McCarthy statements as early as 1952 and as recently as last month.

Says Probe Must Go On Sears said "most" of the allegations against him were without foundation but "I believe it is in the public interest that I withdraw as counsel in this matter."

"The investigation must go forward not only with the full confidence of those involved, but, perhaps more important, with the absolute confidence of the people," Sears said in a statement.

"At no time should there be an opportunity for anyone to feel that all the facts are not brought forward or that any material information is withheld."

Within hours after his selection last week, Boston newspaper files showed Sears had praised McCarthy publicly in 1952 and volunteered to raise funds for McCarthy's reelection campaign Monday. Boston lawyer James M. Walsh said Mrs. McCarthy had recommended Sears as a "pro-McCarthy speaker" in a projected debate last month.

To Resume Search
Democratic members of the subcommittee were openly concerned because Sears failed to tell about his McCarthy views.

Sen. John L. McClellan (Ark.), senior Democrat on the group, said Monday night that "Mr. Sears was not as candid to me as I would have liked to have had him be."

Acting Subcommittee Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.), said Sears offered the resignation and it was accepted by a 6-0 vote.

Mundt said the subcommittee will resume its search for a counsel Wednesday.

He said "our target" date for starting the hearings has not been changed but foggy weather may delay it a little. The subcommittee had expected to start the long-delayed public hearings next week.

Carmi Gives Big
Welcome to Homer Lee
On Return from Hospital

The city of Carmi gave one of its residents, Homer Lee, a big welcome when he returned home last week from Evansville, where he had been hospitalized for five months.

Mr. Lee, a former Harrisburg resident, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lee and brother of Atty. George B. Lee. He worked at the Saline Motor Co. in Harrisburg about a year after finishing school, then moved to Carmi in 1926 and has been there since.

Mr. Lee returned home Wednesday following five months in Deaconess hospital. He was taken there critically injured as a result of an auto crash between New Harmony and Wadesville in Indiana.

The WASHINGTON
MERRY-GO-ROUND
By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Senator McCarthy has now been probed four times by Senate; he so harassed fellow senators that they shun probing him again;
senators failed to examine Council Sears carefully.

WASHINGTON. — Though most people have forgotten it, the Senate of the United States has now investigated Sen. Joseph R. Mc-Carthy or his charges four times, and each time he has been able one way or other to squirm out of jump to a new subject. Judging by the way Senator Mundt of South Dakota picked the supposedly neutral counsel to investigate the current McCarthy-Army probe, he should be able to wiggle out of the fifth.

The four previous probes involving McCarthy and his charges were:

1. The Malmady Massacre—in which McCarthy charged the U. S.
Army had tortured German war criminals found guilty of murdering defenseless American prisoners in cold blood. The charge was investigated by gentle, fair-minded Sen. Ray Baldwin, Connecticut Republican, who found McCarthy completely wrong. Whereupon McCarthy angrily stomped out of the hearings, denouncing Baldwin's findings as a "deliberate and clever attempt to whitewash the American military" and charging that Baldwin himself was "criminally responsible." In the end, the disillusioned Baldwin wearily resigned to become a judge in Connecticut.

2. State Department Communism
—Maryland's veteran Sen. Millard Tydings, a conservative Democrat, was the next to take on McCarthy.
Tydings investigated McCarthy's charges that there were 205 card-carrying Communists in the State Department and branded the story a "fraud and a hoax." Last month
Gen. Bedell Smith, Eisenhower's chief of staff in Europe and now undersecretary of state, told a congressional committee under oath that not one Communist had been found in the State Department.
Meanwhile, McCarthy had again raised the cry of whitewash and carried the fight to Tydings' home state, helping to defeat him for re-election.

3. Maryland Election — McCar-thy's campaign against Tydings was so dirty that the Senate Elections committee investigated and referred serious charges to the Justice Department. But McCarthy jumped on two of the investigating senators, both Republicans
—Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and Robert Hendrickson of New Jersey — accusing them of being "prejudiced" and lacking a "background of legal training." In the end, one of the lesser campaign workers, Jon Jonkel, took the rap for the dirty campaign, and McCarthy, off the hook, cheerily announced: "I think the Maryland election was one of the cleanest campaigns in the country."

Later Attorney General Brownell let the statute of limitations run on any prosecution, and President Eisenhower appointed Robert E.
Lee, one of those named in the Maryland probe, to the important post FCC Commissioner.

4. McCarthy's Finances — The most devastating charges against McCarthy were brought up by Sen.
William Benton, Connecticut Democrat, who drew up a twelve-point indictment accusing McCarthy of unethical and dishonest conduct.
McCarthy never answered the charges but he bombarded the Senate Elections committee investigating him with fiery epithets.

He charged that the committee was engaged in an effort to "discredit and destroy any man who fights Communist subversion," suggested that "several United States senators have known Communists on their staffs," and set his own staff loose on the trail of one of the investigating senators. McCarthy also challenged Benton to repeat his charges without senatorial immunity, which Benton did. Mc-Carthy sued, but recently dropped his libel suit.

RELUCTANT SENATORS

With this past history in mind, no senator was anxious to take on the Army-McCarthy probe. The White House originally sent word to Republican leaders that the Senate Armed Services committee should investigate the Army-Mc-Carthy wrangle. But this was the last thing Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee, wanted. He is up against a heavy Boston Irish vote in his re-election campaign this year, and he remembered how Senator Lodge, another Republican from Massachusetts, was defeated after he served on the Tydings committee investigating McCarthy-State Department charges. So Saltonstall ducked.

As a result, the GOP leaders took McCarthy's own suggestion—namely, that he step aside as chairman and let the McCarthy committee investigate McCarthy.
Shortly thereafter came attempts to drop the whole probe. One of McCarthy's close friends on the committee, Sen. Everett Dirksen, of Illinois, urged behind closed doors that McCarthy's controversial chief counsel, Roy Cohn, and Army Counselor John Adams be suspended. This would have led to sidestepping the investigation, but was rejected by everyone, including McCarthy, who has subsequently changed his mind.

More recently he has been trying to head off a showdown hearing, and is tossing the whole controversy off as a Cohn-Adams affair.

Meanwhile, two dozen names were tossed into a hat and juggled around before the McCarthy committee finally pulled out Samuel B. Sears of Boston to referee the Army-McCarthy controversy. Actually, Mr. Sears suggested himself for the job and the harassed temporary chairman, Sen. Carl Mundt, reaching Sears by phone in Dallas where he was on a business trip, asked him to come to Washington for consultation.

But the consultation, behind the committee's closed doors, only scratched the surface. Sen. Henry Jackson, Washington Democrat, questioned the Boston attorney about a debate he had had with Dean Ervin Griswold of the Harvard law school over the Fifth Amendment. Sears admitted that he had opposed David and John Rubell, second-year law students who invoked the Fifth Amendment before the McCarthy committee.

Following this, Mundt made a private telephone poll of Massachusetts congressmen for their advice on Sears, and most of them gave him a clean bill of health, though two recommended against him, charging that he was a "publicity hound."

However, the committee failed to delve very deep or they would have discovered that the Harvard Crimson on Nov. 2, 1952, had told how Sears had rushed into print to raise a fund to re-elect McCarthy in Wisconsin.

"When I heard of the fund to defeat McCarthy," Sears is quoted by the Crimson, "I chased the senator all over Wisconsin because I wanted to start a fund drive in his behalf. The senator has been doing a great job and will continue to do so," said the man whom Senator Mundt picked to be impartial counsel of the committee to investigate McCarthy.

Meanwhile, the Senate Investigating committee has received seven copies of the unbridled Army report on the McCarthy-Cohn-Schne-Adams affair, including violent language used by both Cohn and Mc-Carthy. The committee has also asked the Army inspector general for its report on whether McCar-thy's ex-investigator, Private David Schine, got favored Army treatment as a result of pressure from McCarthy and Cohn.

Congressmen to Head South April 15 To Train for Annual Baseball Game

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressmen are going south for spring baseball training on April 15.

And the teams, one from each party, would like you to know that it isn't going to cost us taxpayers a sou. The uniforms are provided by old Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators. The congressmen will pay their own transportation. Daytona Beach, Fla., will pay their keep down there for a few days.

C. W. (Runt) Bishop, an old baseball man himself, will head the Republican contingent. Albert Sydney (Sid) Herlong of Florida will mastermind the Democrats.

On June 15, in the noble name of charity, the two teams will meet here in Griffith Stadium in a game sponsored by the Washington Star.
The take-home goes toward sending underprivileged boys and girls to summer camps. Last year, over 200 kids had a time for themselves.

GOP Has Biggest Squad

In the ball game itself, nobody seems to care who wins, so long as the kids do.

I paged Runt and Sid. The Republicans seem to have the biggest squad.

For catchers, Runt has Thomas Curtis of Missouri, Sam Coon of Oregon, Sen. Andy Schoepel of Kansas and Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan. For pitchers, he is counting on Glenn Davis of Wisconsin, Harold Ostertag of New York, the old left-hander; Sen.
Fred Payne of Maine, and Sen.
Herman Welker of Idaho.

His infield will consist of Bill Springer of Illinois, Don Jackson of California, Harold Velde of Illinois, the old man himself (Bishop), Pat Hillings of California, Hamar
Budge of Idaho, Bill Bates of Massachusetts, Thor C. Tollefson of Washington state.

In the outfield, the GOP will have Les Arends of Illinois, Steve

Derounian of New York, Mel Laird of Wisconsin, Stuyvesant Wainwright of New York and a few others too numerous to mention.

Democrat Team

The Democratic manager ran his club right down, man by man without giving the second and third teams.

Herlong listed a couple of catchers, Phil Landrum of Georgia and Oren Harris of Arkansas. Don Wheeler, the old side-wheeler and veteran of many such a game, will be on the hill at the start.
Back of him will be William H.
Natcher of Kentucky who is supposed to be in "mid-season form."

The Democratic infield will be Gene McCarthy of Minnesota, Olin Teague of Texas, Walter Rogers of Texas, and Laurie Battle of Alabama.

Out in the pasture we'll find these Democrats: Hugh Addonizio of New Jersey, J. Wendell (Oleo) Rivers of South Carolina, and Al

Sieminski of New Jersey.

We are now living in the geological epoch Holocene.

The members of the Hi-Tri organization at Harrisburg Township high school entertained with a barn dance at Bonnell gymnasium Friday night with 74 couples present.

The boys and girls engaged in square dancing, the Virginia reel and in modern dancing with music furnished by a record player and loud-speaking system.

Lucky LeRoy, WSIL-TV star, was present for one hour with his guitar and the group sat on the gym floor and ate from box lunches while he played.

The gym was decorated for the occasion. It was made up like the inside of the barn with bales of straw, saddles and bridles. The youngsters also were appropriately dressed.

During the party Bill Epperheimer was elected Hi-Tri sweetheart. Chairman of the decorations was Mary Taylor, assisted by Sally Russell and the committee. Carol Richmond, Hi-Tri president, had much to do with the planning of the event.

Organization chaperons were Mrs. Helen Dunn and Miss Alta Davis.

Bill Bob Durham, Chicago, spent the past week in Harrisburg visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Durham, 211 East Ford street. He has now returned to his studies at the University of Illinois School of Medicine in Chicago.

Urges Network Of Defense Roads Around Cities

WASHINGTON — Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) proposed today that Congress appropriate 100 million dollars for a special network of atomic-age defense highways around major cities and potential target areas.

His proposal was contained in an amendment to a Senate bill, up for debate today, proposing $1,010,000,000 a year in federal highway aid funds during fiscal 1956 and 1957.

Major provisions of the Senate bill as the Public Works committee brought it to the floor are, annually, 342 million dollars in federal aid to the primary highway system; 228 million to the secondary road system; 190 million to the urban system, and 150 million to the system of interstate highways.

Another 100 million dollars a year would go to such things as forest highways, park roads, and highways on Indian and public lands.

The Senate bill differed drastically from a House-passed measure that called for $75 million dollars. This was the figure recommended by the Eisenhower administration.

In effect, Ferguson proposed that the government create a new class of roads—special defense highways to give new and better entry ways for military and civil defense units in time of attack and better exit ways for civilian populations under evacuation.

Begin Arrests of Motorists Without 1954 License Plates

SPRINGFIELD — State police and investigators from the secretary of state's office today began arresting drivers of all motor vehicles without 1954 license plates.

Since March 22, the police and investigators have been halting all motorists with 1953 plates and ordering them to make out applications for 1954 plates on the spot.

Unless the driver refused or resisted the order to fill out the application, he was not arrested for displaying the delinquent plates.

But Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter last week ordered immediate arrests to commence today.

West Germany Refuses Recognition to Satellite East Regime

BONN, Germany — West Germany decided today to refuse any recognition of the Soviet-sponsored East German satellite regime.

The decision will be announced in a government statement to be read to the Bundestag lower house Wednesday morning by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

West Germany's three Allied commissioners endorsed the statement Monday at a one-hour meeting with Adenauer. The Cabinet approved it unanimously this morning.

Industrialist Pierre S. du Pont Dies at Age of 84

WILMINGTON, Del. — Pierre S. du Pont, one of the nation's leading industrialists and philanthropists, died suddenly at Memorial Hospital Monday night. He was 84.

Du Pont, who was instrumental in building the vast Du Pont industrial empire, was stricken at dinner in his estate at Longwood Gardens.

The industrialist was credited with saving his family's holdings and making wide investments in other fields which spread the family's influence in the automotive industry, rubber, steel, nylon and gun powder. He and a cousin patented the formula for smokeless gun powder.

He and his two brothers, Irene and the late Lammott, were left fatherless when he was 14. After graduating from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1890, Du Pont went to work in his family's mill and became an assistant superintendent.

In 1902, when the family's holdings were about to pass into other hands, he teamed with two cousins and bought out the business, setting up the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co. of Delaware which mushroomed into one of the largest industries in the nation.

Sunday is the only holiday recognized by common law in the United States.

Need No Change In Defense Plans: Radford

By United Press
Adm. Arthur W. Radford told Congress today rapid development of the hydrogen bomb has not made it necessary to change the nation's military strategy.

Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, made this report to the Senate Armed Services Committee in a secret briefing on the defensive and offensive significance of the H-bomb tests in the Pacific. Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission appeared with Radford.

After the two-hour meeting, Chairman Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.) told reporters Radford said the gigantic explosions had "not changed the joint chiefs' ideas" on military strategy.

He said Radford reported that air defense planning "will continue along the same lines" as in the past.

Other late developments: Foreign Aid: Foreign aid chief Harold E. Stassen submitted to the House Foreign Affairs Committee a $3,497,000,000 foreign aid request calling for about 800 million dollars to support the anti-Communists in the Indochinese war for fiscal 1955 starting July 1. It compares to $4,726,000,000 for the present fiscal year.

Postal Pay: Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield testified before the House Post Office Committee against an $800-a-year pay increase asked by postal workers. He said it would be "exorbitant" and would jeopardize President Eisenhower's efforts to balance the budget and cut taxes.

Harry Dexter White: The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, resuming hearings on the Harry Dexter White case, heard testimony that the former Treasury official in 1945 predicted the downfall of American capitalism at a private luncheon. The testimony was given by free lance writer Jonathan Mitchell. White, now dead, has been described as a member of a Soviet spy ring.

Coffee: Spokesmen for two large food chains — A & P and Kroger — forecast further coffee price increases which will raise the price of the cheapest grade to $1.30 a pound or more.

U. S. Seeking to Map Warning to Red China

been clearly established that Red China is not engaged in aggression in Indochina.

Need Decision
Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis.) said he was "depressed" by Dulles' testimony Monday. He predicted Southeast Asia will fall unless U. S. forces are sent in.

He opposed sending troops but said "we've got to strike and strike hard if we mean what we say."

He declared a decision must be made within 60 days. Other members of the committee likewise confessed their concern and the need for corrective measures.

Rep. Albert P. Morano (R-Conn.) said he believes Dulles is working on a "solid plan" of action. He said he doesn't know what it might be but thinks the secretary now is trying to clear it with U. S. allies.

Acting committee Chairman John M. Vorys (R-Ohio) said, however, that he knows of no specific plan.

Dulles has implied that massive retaliation would be launched against the Chinese mainland if China sends an invading army into Indochina.

"One purpose of Dulles' speeches," Morano said, "was to bluff the Chinese. Now they're calling his bluff."

Morano said the first step was sending material to Indochina, then sending men, and the next thing will be to send an army and call it "volunteers" as the Chinese did in Korea.

Talks went on until early morning with a federal mediator sitting in, and then were recessed while negotiators got some rest. They were expected to be resumed later today.

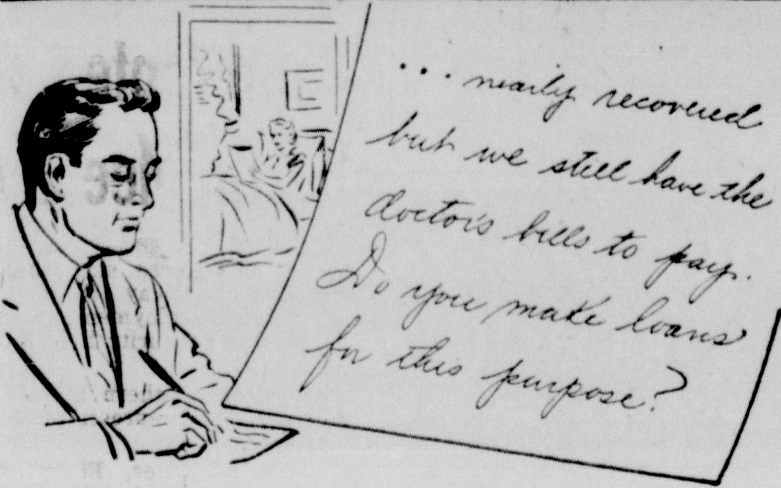

The railroad blamed a jurisdictional fight between engineers and firemen and asked the National Mediation Board to intervene.

Warm Weather Drives Winter Cold from Most of Nation with Tornadoes, Storms

By United Press
Spring, long overdue, arrived on a dead run, driving winter cold out of most of the nation in a single day.

But it brought scattered tornadoes, thunderstorms and hail the size of marbles. At least six tornado funnels were sighted in Iowa and Kansas Monday night, and some of them capriciously ripped up farm buildings and homes.

Mrs. Alex Mullins suffered cuts and bruises when a twister swept through a 10-mile area north of Blanchard in southwest Iowa, lifting ing her home right over head. Another home was carried a quarter of a mile and then reduced to kindling, and two others were whisked away and demolished.

In all, four funnels were sighted in the Blanchard area. Another touched ground near Riley, Kan., damaging or destroying several farm buildings. The sixth, seen near Milford, Kan., did not touch ground.

At least 21 head of cattle were killed in the Iowa tornadoes. When residents saw the funnels bearing down on the Blanchard area, many of them raced away in their cars while others dived for their basements.

The frigid weather that had chilled most northern states for weeks was dispelled with surprising speed as the mercury soared to balmy levels Monday.

April 5 heat records were set at Ottumwa, Iowa, with 81, and Des Moines, with 79. Chicago enjoyed a high of 69 degrees and the temperature was expected to hit 70 today.

Except for parts of New England, where freezing weather made a last stand, most of the nation enjoyed summery temperatures.

Agreement on A-Bombs No Secret: Truman

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Former President Truman said today the 1943 Roosevelt-Churchill agreement banning use of atomic bombs except by agreement between the United States and Britain was not secret "as far as those entitled to know were concerned."

Mr. Truman said the agreement still is in effect.

He said ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committees of both U. S. houses of Congress knew of the agreement which grew out of Britain's discovery the atom development project would be so costly "that the United States was the only nation that could afford to carry on with it."

As a result of the meeting between former President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill at Quebec in August, 1943, Mr. Truman said, "the United States took over the entire project of developing the atom."

Mr. Truman, in declaring the agreement to still be in effect, said it referred only to atomic development and not to the hydrogen bomb.

The former president said he renewed the Quebec agreement with former Prime Minister Clement Attlee and Canadian Prime Minister MacKenzie King in Washington late in 1945, "shortly after the Potsdam conference — as soon as he could get here."

Mr. Truman said again both Foreign Relations committees were aware of the renewal. He even believed congressional floor leaders knew of it.

Two American Soldiers Seized By 20 Soviets

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — Twenty Soviet soldiers, led by an officer "invaded" the U. S. zone of West Germany Monday and kidnapped two American soldiers and their jeep in full daylight, the U. S. Army said today.

Two West German border policemen who went to the scene to investigate the incident some 30 minutes later also were seized, an Army announcement said.

The two Germans were released after four hours of interrogation by the Soviets. But the Americans still are being held.

The Army said the two men were 200 yards inside the American zone when the incident occurred. Their present whereabouts are unknown.

"Other soldiers who escaped apprehension reported the seizure was made by about 20 Soviet soldiers and one officer," the headquarters announcement said. "No shots were fired and no one was injured."

West German police said Russian troops were engaged in maneuvers on their side of the frontier when the American patrol rolled by.

Names of the kidnapped soldiers, who still are being held by the Russians, were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The Army said the two soldiers were members of a motorized patrol from the 14th Armored Cavalry Regiment.

County Superintendent of Schools

Raymond "Pete" Gardner was born in Eldorado, January 28, 1915, the son of John L. and Rosa Gardner. He attended the Beulah Heights Grade School and graduated from the Eldorado Township High School. He was an honor student and an outstanding athlete during his high school days and is widely known as one of the outstanding basketball players produced in southern Illinois. In his high school senior year, he was chosen on the All State Basketball Team.

He attended Southern Illinois University in 1936 and 1937, after which he accepted a teaching position in the Harco Grade School for 1938 and 1939. While teaching there, he played on the semi-professional Neighbor's Five Basketball Team, a team that gained wide publicity through their victories over outstanding professional teams throughout the country. After two years teaching, he re-entered Southern Illinois University to obtain his Bachelor of Education degree. During his senior year in college, he was elected captain of the Southern Illinois Basketball Team for that year. Today he also holds the Degree of Master of Science in Education from Southern Illinois University.

His experience in teaching and administrative work covers a period of twelve years, including terms at the Harco Elementary, Beulah Heights Elementary, McLeansboro Township High School and Eldorado Township High School. BERLIN — Representatives of Germany's four occupying powers met today to discuss means of making prison life softer for Rudolf Hess and six other top Nazi war criminals.

The meeting followed a plea by the three Western foreign minis-

The Allies were expected to ask the Soviets to agree that some of the Nazi inmates at Spandau Prison should be allowed outside hospital treatment.

H-Bomb War with Russia Unlikely: Eisenhower

notes on reminder cards to guide him, and his earnestness carried across the screens.

Put Trust in FBI
"I don't mean to say and no one can say to you that there are no dangers," he declared, "but we do not have to be hysterical. We can be vigilant, we can be Americans. We can stand up and hold up our heads."

The danger of Communism at home, he said, has been "greatly exaggerated." He advised the public to put its trust in the "great bulwark" of the FBI.

Instead of dwelling on the 3,700,000 unemployed, he said the nation should think about the 60 million employed—"very near an all-time high." Unemployment—a symptom of the transition from war to peace—"happily shows signs now of leveling off," he said.

The massive hydrogen bomb tests in the Pacific have led to worldwide concern about the chances of an atomic war. But Mr. Eisenhower warned against "hysterical thinking," "the jitters of any kind of panic."

He said the "men in the Kremlin" are well aware of the "sobering" effect that would flow from such a conflict. And of all of these, he added, "none is greater than the retaliation that would certainly be visited upon them if they were to attack any of our nation or any part of our vital interests aggressively and in order to conquer."

The two main things to remember about the H-bomb, he said, are:

1. "With respect to that bomb, we are not going to start a war. It's not going to be used by our initiative."
2. "The H-bomb is a threat to us only if a potential aggressor, who also has the secret of the H-bomb, determines to use it against us. Against that, we have to make our provisions, to make certain that sensible men have done every possible thing they can to protect themselves."

Mr. Eisenhower said that in addition to the H-bomb, the United States must fashion an effective civil and continental defense. "In order to make certain that we have the best possible chance to live through such a catastrophe" should the Soviets break through the barriers of judgment and start a war.

He counseled a level-headed approach to Communist infiltration of America. He said he did not want to minimize this particular threat, but that there are only about 25,000 "doctrinal Communists" in America today and "the FBI knows pre-

Monday Sheppard AFB, Texas, defeated Scott, 79-64, as Bob Williams led the way with 22 points and Norm Pilgrim, former Oklahoma Aggies star, added 14.

U. S. Probably Will Consult Allies in A-War

WASHINGTON — American officials said today the United States probably will consult Britain and other allies if it ever decides to launch an atomic counter-attack against an enemy.

They made the statement in the wake of a White House announcement that a 1943 agreement between Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill on atomic war is no longer valid. Under the pact, the two nations agreed not to use the A-bomb against each other or against any other country unless both agreed.

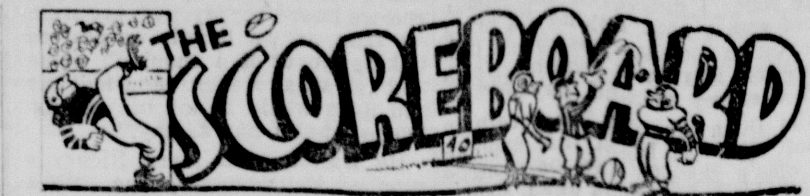

Churchill mentioned the agreement Monday in a debate in the House of Commons. The White House promptly said there was such an arrangement but it is no longer binding.

American officials said that while there is no obligation now for the United States to get British agreement before using atomic or hydrogen bombs the American government most likely would discuss the matter with Britain before rolling out its deadly arsenal.

They said this would go for other major allies too. Providing there is time to talk and, in any case, where Allied bases are to be used for the jump-off.

These officials pointed out that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and others have said a Western collective security system is based upon mutual cooperation. This clearly calls, they added, for the United States to consult with its allies if possible on use of atomic and hydrogen weapons.

Red Sox Are Most Likely to Succeed if Yankees Fail

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—Now that the Yankees appear ready to be taken, it is difficult to put a finger on an American League club most likely to succeed.

It easily could be Boston, where the youth movement is a couple of years ahead of schedule. Lou Boudreau's young men won on the road last trip. Parlaying this with a big run at Fenway Park and its beckoning left field screen could take it all. Joe Cronin has the right idea—finding and playing youngsters who figure to improve. The Indians have been together too long and have lost confidence. Outside of speed, the White Sox haven't enough of anything, and their Caribbean stars, Minnie Miñoso and Chico Carrasquel, tail off as the result of winter ball. There is no other threat, stressing the weakness of the American League.

After five years of frustration, it's too bad that the Indians are not now set to make a charge. This despite the fact that Al Rosen really hit the jackpot last season. Rosen was the most valuable everything, even though Mickey Vernon nosed him out of the batting championship. The Miami mauler manufactured 43 home runs, drove in 145 runs (major league high), hit 336 and was a capable third sacker without too wide a range. During the winter, Rosen made a business connection with an investment firm headed by Wing Baxter, who also happens to be a heavy stockholder in the Indians. Happily married and a papa now, Rosen is shooting for the financial moon. There should be no let-down here.

In the National League, the Giants have added something more than Willie Mays and the left-hand pitchers, Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle.

Drowning Fatalities Are Cut in Half

WASHINGTON — The nation's death rate from drownings has been cut in half since the American Red Cross began its famed water safety program 40 years ago.

The program began in February, 1914, with one instructor. Today, there are more than 35,000 authorized instructors of swimming and life-saving courses.

Although more than 9,300,000 Americans have completed swimming and life-saving courses, crowning still claims some 7,000 lives a year, and the Red Cross feels it has a long way to go before it reaches the goal proclaimed in its slogan:

"Every American a swimmer, every swimmer a life-saver."

is first to tell you there is no question about his hitting.

"When Ray reported to us last fall," says Westrum, for whose job the large Texan is bidding, "his throwing was 100 per cent better than it was the previous spring. He's matured as a receiver."

Katt, 26, batted .326 and drove in 98 runs in 114 games with Minneapolis. Westrum doesn't envy Katt's batting position—eighth. The old pro attributes his anemic .224 of 1953 to so being handicapped. "I never got anything good to hit," explains the Poughkeepsie Plodder. "With the pitcher batting next, they didn't worry about walking me. And what pinch-hitters have averaged one hit in five trips batting for pitchers? I know I always tried to keep on pitchers from giving the eighth hit anything good."

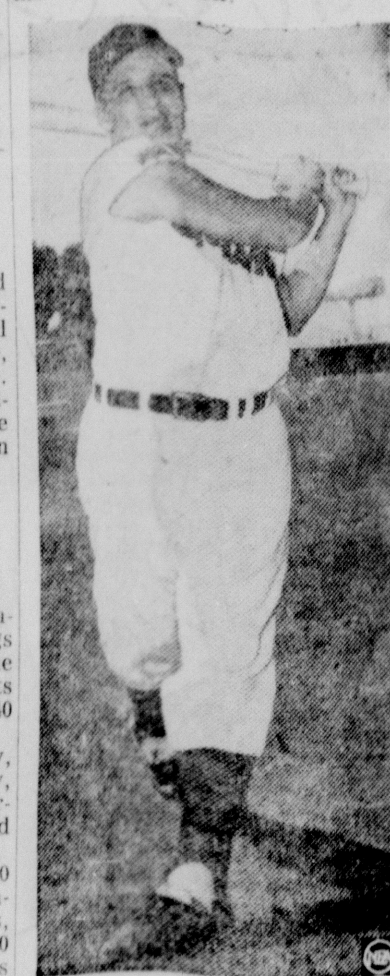

Westrum doubts that Roy Campanella would bat .250 swinging eighth.

"The way it is, Campanella has Gil Hodges batting after him, so pitchers run the risk of his getting on base," he points out.

Henry Thompson is another reason for Polo Grounds optimism. Hankus Pankus of the long ball opens the campaign as a regular for the first time in three springs. Bobby Thomson had the third base job in 1952 and last trip young Daryl Spencer left Phoenix as top kick.

Thompson, hard and fit is bouncing around third base with the zest he showed in 1950, the year he broke Pie Traynor's National League record with 43 double plays.

That's why the Giants' manager shows more concern about Second Baseman Davey Williams and his sensitive back.

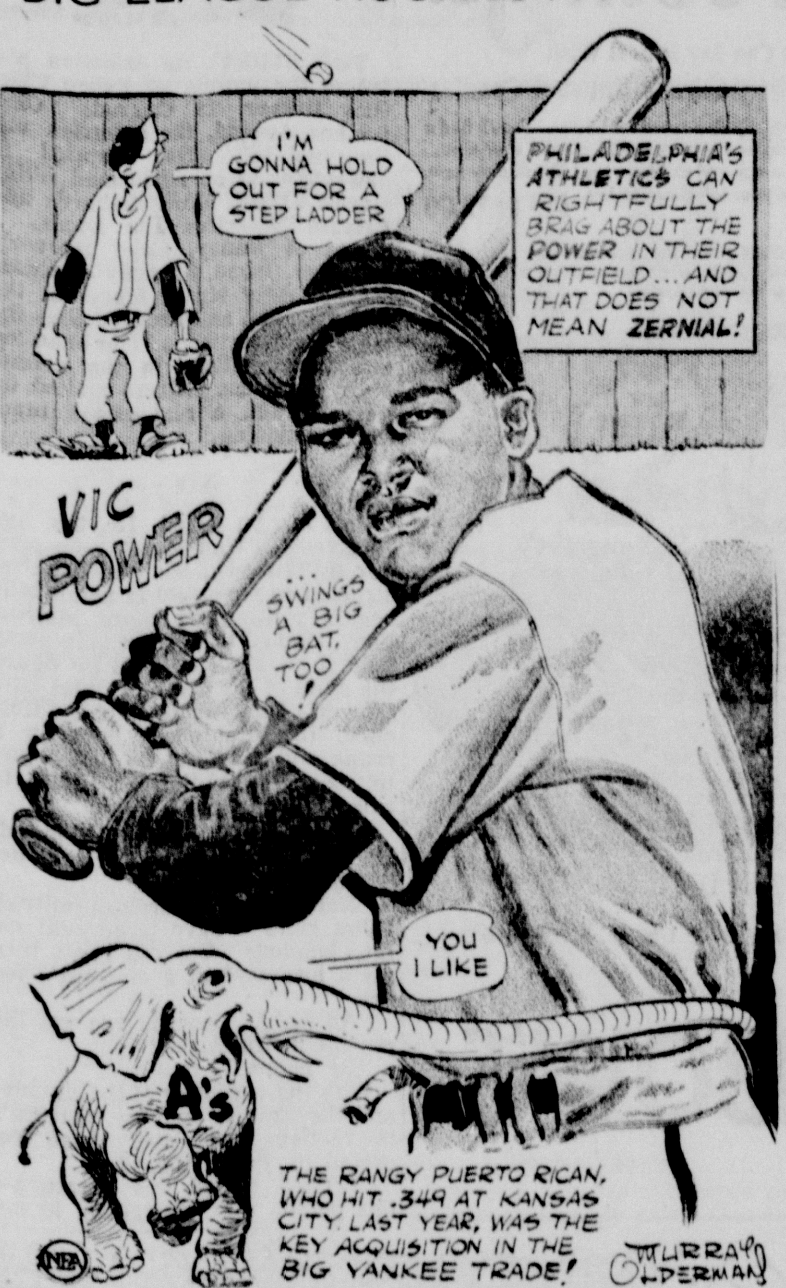

HIT JACKPOT—Al Rosen was most valuable everything last year and should keep right on rolling. (NEA)

Don Johnson, Flop, with Yankees, Hurls White Sox To 6-2 Win Over Cardinals

By United Press

Don Johnson, a pitching flop with the Yankees, Browns and Senators, is with the White Sox merely "on a look," but Manager Paul Richards says he has seen enough already to convince him that the cocky right-hander will be a consistent winner for Chicago this year.

"Johnson is a changed pitcher from the fellow who used to try to fog the ball past every hitter," Richards said. "He's picked up a good slider and he's a much smarter pitcher than he used to be."

The 27-year-old Johnson, whose trial period with the White Sox expires when the American League season opens next week, became a pinch to stick Monday when he yielded only four hits in eight innings to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-2 at San Antonio, Tex.

Repulsed Homers
Johnson, who posted a 15-12 record with Toronto of the International League last year, struck out three Cardinal batters while pacing the White Sox to their third straight triumph and becoming the first Chicago hurler to go eight innings this spring. He had a shutout until the sixth when Rip Repulsed led off with a homer.

Little Bobby Shantz of the Athletics also turned in a fine effort at Mobile, Ala., limiting the Pirates to three hits but unfortunately for him one of those hits was Frank Thomas' ninth homer of the season, enough to give Pittsburgh a 1-0 decision. Rookie Bob Purkey went the distance for the Pirates and gave up six hits.

Detroit rapped Robin Roberts for six hits and five runs to beat the Phillies, 8-2, with Ray Herbert being credited with the victory and the Tigers turning in a third inning triple play.

Johnny Klippstein, in his best appearance of the spring, held the Orioles hitless until Vic Wertz singled in the seventh as he paced the Cubs to a 2-0 triumph at New Orleans. Wertz' hit was the only one allowed by Klippstein during his seven inning stint. Joe Coleman was the loser.

Two singles and a double by Jackie Robinson plus the smooth seven-hit pitching of Clem Labine, Jim Hughes and Erv Palica helped Brooklyn to a 6-0 victory over Milwaukee at Chattanooga, Tenn. The triumph was the Dodgers' fourth against the Braves this spring and gave them an even split in the spring series.

A pair of homers by Lloyd Merriam were the key blows as Cincinnati defeated Washington 9-4, at Winston Salem, N. C. Ted Kluszewski, Jim Greengrass and Wally Post each hit homers for the Redlegs, too, while Eddie Yost and Roy Sievers connected for the Senators.

Jim Hegan's three-run homer against John (Windy) McCall in the ninth gave the Indians a 10-8 triumph over the Giants at Shreveport, La., while Harry Byrd and Johnny Sain combined to pitch the Yankees to a 12-3 victory over the Charlotte Hornets of the South Atlantic League.

Memphis of the Southern Association rallied for three runs in the seventh inning off Hector (Skinny) Brown to beat the Boston Red Sox, 6-5.

Bevo Francis May Quit School for 'Financial Reasons'

RIO GRANDE, Ohio — Lanky Bevo Francis, whose astronomical scoring records rocked the basketball world for the past two seasons, contemplated quitting school today for "financial reasons."

Francis, who has two more years of college eligibility remaining at Rio Grande College, said he couldn't "give my wife the things she needs," and couldn't support his 20-month-old son properly by continuing in college.

Newt Oliver, who discovered Bevo while coaching in high school and brought him to Rio Grande, indicated he might not be around next season either. Oliver said he had "one or two offers elsewhere, and besides, there wouldn't be much of a future here without Bevo."

Francis said he will "definitely" decide his future by this spring. "I don't want to go into debt any further," he said.

Francis topped the nation's small colleges in scoring the past season with a total of 1,255 points, an average of 46.5 points per game. He broke 11 all-time records in the process in 27 games played against four-year schools.

Francis said he had already contracted for a job at a West Virginia race track for this summer, but he had no plans for a job this fall.

KILL WITH CARE

THE STORY: An extortion plot led to the murder of Police Chief Otto Drover in Colorado City. Banker Atwood, the extortion victim, had left $4000 wrapped in newspaper at an abandoned filling station. Lieut. Mark Richards and Private Detective Jim Dunn, a friend of Nancy, Chief Drover's daughter, found the body of Eddie Stone, son of Mayor Stone, at the filling station and deduced that the mentally defective lad had been led into participation in the crime. Near the scene officers picked up Carl Hardin, a real estate man, for questioning.

XIV

Carl Hardin talked. He, too, had received a "Wild Mare" note similar to Atwood's. He had been instructed to have $400 in small bills ready, waiting for more instructions. He had thrown the note away paid it no attention until he heard the news of the death of Chief Otto Drover. That made a big difference, the difference between a crank and a killer. He had begun to scurry around in an effort to raise the money.

"A minute," Richards demanded. "You didn't have the sum demanded?"

"Not in cash," Hardin admitted. "You know I have large real estate holdings. But you can't turn them into cash at a moment's notice."

"All right. How did you get the pay-off instructions?"

"By phone."

With the exception of the amount and the time of delivery, Hardin's instructions duplicated those received by Peter Atwood.

"I tried to tell this creature—this person who was talking to me —that I couldn't get the money by the time he'd set. He laughed at me. A horrible sound. He reminded me of Otto Drover's death." Hardin shivered at the recollection, wet his lips before he went on. "So I went out and tried again to get the money. I borrowed a little here and there. Hocked my watch and my ring. By the time for the pay-off I'd raised only $240. I didn't know what to do. I was frantic. I didn't dare wait. I delivered the money I had with a note saying I'd bring the rest as soon as possible. I did. You—you saw me leaving North Hill after my second pay-off."

Jim Dunn let out his breath in a soft sigh. At least that explained why a pay-off had been made after the receiver was dead. Everything had been worked out on a tight schedule.

Dunn had no doubt there were many others in Colorado City who had made the trek to that deserted filling station with varying sums of money. The instigators of the plot had struck, had timed everything carefully, had collected, had killed to remove a danger point, and could now retire and wait. Jim filed away in the back of his mind the fact that the extortionist had apparently been well acquainted here. Judging by two known instances, he had known the correct amounts to demand.

"This is Elmer Thorpe, Jim. He's the mail carrier who has the district around North Hill," Mark Richards said.

Jim said hello to Elmer Thorpe, who looked wind-blown, sun-scoured, and snow-blinded. He had bleached yellow hair and large teeth of exactly the same shade. He said he was proud to meet Mr.

Jim Dunn.

"Jim, I wanted you to hear his story at first hand."

Jim nodded and let Mr. Thorpe recite. His method of delivery was that of a prepared speech or classroom recitation. Obviously he had given thought and practice to his words.

"I heard over the radio awhile ago, the midnight broadcast it was, about Mayor Stone's boy. Myrtle and I were listening to the radio and we heard it. Myrtle's my wife. As soon as we heard, we started talking about if I shouldn't come and tell what I seen. She told me you folks would be too busy to listen to what I had to say."

He waited until Mark Richards supplied the necessary cue. "Not at all."

Elmer Thorpe smiled. "Maybe it ain't so much after all, but I read once how every little bit of information is a help. So I came right over to tell the lieutenant here about Eddie Stone, about him playing garage." Mr. Thorpe lit a cigaret and hid it in a large hand so it appeared as if he were thumbing his nose every time he took a drag. "I deliver mail to old Mansfield's house. And to the mayor who lives there. So I've known Eddie for a good many years. We used to talk quite a lot and he'd sometimes walk along with me and I'd let him carry my sack. A nice boy, Eddie. Always cheerful and kind. People said mean things about Eddie, but people say mean things about all of us, I guess."

He waited again, took a deep drag on his cigaret and emerged from behind his hand.

"So one day, about a week ago

I guess it was, or maybe a little more than that. Maybe 10 days or so. But anyway, Eddie was walking with me and he said, 'Mr. Thorpe, because Eddie was always polite whatever nasty people said about him. 'Mr. Thorpe,' he says, 'can a person get mail anywhere if it's addressed to them right?' And I said, 'Well, Eddie,' I says, 'I don't see why not because that's the function of the U. S. mail.' So then he told me he wanted to get his mail at that old filling station on North Hill. You see,

I cut across that way to tie to still be playing and him a man gather the ends of my route. So I said, 'Why, Eddie, aren't you getting your mail all right at home?' I was going to laugh about that but he said he was serious. He said he was playing garage and wanted to get his mail at the old filling station. Some folks might think it funny for Eddie to
